GUTTENBURG RACE TRACE, Oct. 31 .- The scratches at Guttenburg to-day came very near spoiling what would otherwise bave een an excellent days racing. The withdrawals were not numerous, but they consisted of the best horses in several of the races, and this naturally spoiled the interest. One, Rhono, Sir Walter Raleigh and Sandowne declined the issue in the third race,

Bott to wondering what troubled him in his past races.

The followers of Woodchopper were full of remorse, as they tore up their tickets. Woodchopper was second nearly a sixteenth of a mile in front of Fassett. George C. was swallowed up in the dust.

The second race resulted in another throw down for the taient. Salisbury was plunged on for a good thing, but the start was delayed considerably in three or four breakaways. Salisbury ran as much as half amile. This killed his chances. Johannes, who was well played on the strength of a fast trial, took the lead in the first quarter, and won pulled up. Muchage beat the ravorite for the place.

Kirkover figured a moral for the third race, and the talent put enough money on him to get even for their reverses in the past two races. Kirkover had no trouble in winning. Mchermott riding afar better race than when ne rode the same horse a week ago. Jack those was second choice, and easily secured the place from Rico, who has changed from leight's stable to that of P. Kelly.

A well-known Guttenburg trainer related an interesting story in the club-house at Guttenburg a rew days ago. He said: I went over to Morris Park on the last day of the Fall meeting to buy a horse of Mike Dwyer. He was in the timers' stand, and after we set-tled the preliminaries I sat waiting for the Brooklyn turinan to write out an order for Brocklyn turfman to write out an order for my new purchase.

Mr. Dwyer's son Charley, a little shaver, he appeared to me hardly out of short pants, entered the stand. Mike was betting on Extra, who was tne favorite in the race about to be run. He turned to his son and asked what price Extra had reached. The boy answered and his father then inquired:

"What are you betting on, Charley?"

"Nothing, answered the youngester.

"I 'hink Extra will win," said Mr. Dwyer connidently.

"Well' answered the boy, "I did think of

"I hink Extra will win," said Mr. Dwyer connaently.

"Well," answered he boy, "I did think of putting a thonsand on him but I don't fancy him much and will look at the race."

This was delivered with all the coolness and honehalance of a veteran better and I sat there in open-eyed wonder looking at the shaver. You could have knocked me down with a leather. The pair were more like brothers than father and son and I navent got over wondering about it yet.

Charley lower is a lad sixteen years old, the small for his age. One day at Menmouth Park his father wagered $2,500 against $1,500 on a certain horse one-two-three. The money was won and Mr. Dwyer turned the money over to his son, saying: "There, see how much you can win with it."

The boy look the money, and by judicious playing had $15,000 at the close of the Morris Park meeting. Charley frequently acts an his father's commissioner in the ring, and there is another son who has also bet money for the Brooklyn plunger.

Getting an Idea of Justice.

Commander Krotz, of the French gunboat Hussard, and Lieut Bertier, of the Hugship L Aretheuse, were visitors at the Jefferson Market Poider court this morning and occupied seats beside sustice Hyan while he was dispensing justice.

Many criticisms are made on Mr. Caldwell's starting recently. For the most part they are unfair, and are made by persons who do not take into consideration the handicap which the starter intors under at the hilliop track. Many compare him to Mr. Rowe, and declare that the latter is the city starter in the world. Mr. Rowe diu good work on the big tracks this season, but he had experienced lockeys to deal with and who helped him materially in effecting good starts. At Brighton Mr. Rowes work was very p. 07. This cannot be denied. He had there a different case of Guecono Martell, who was convicted has trialay of the murder of Glovannia for bots who have the posteys and the starts were very ragged. with, and he should be given credit.

The suspicions which Eastern trainers entertained concerning the crack cult G. W. Johnson's legs, have been verified. The colt's legs have been fired. This is not encouraging to Dr. Knapp, who gave $20,000 for the colt. It is said, however, that Dr. Sheppard gave it as his opinion that G. W. Johnson would stand training next season if his leg was fired, and Dr. Knapp bought the colt with his eves wide open. It was a doubtrul investment, and the writer questions whether Dr. Knapp will over win the colt cut.
